

RUBI Autism Network Parent Training

Many children with autism exhibit behavioral problems, including tantrums, noncompliance, aggression, and self-injury. These behaviors may not only hinder the individual's ability to learn but may also amplify caregiver stress. The RUBI Autism Network Parent Training program teaches parents to use applied behavior analysis techniques to manage their child's challenging behaviors and to teach new skills. This training program is suggested for parents with children ages 3 - 11.

The Foundation has received a grant that will cover the funding for a group session of up to 10 participants. As part of the program you will receive:

- 1:1 Applied Behavior Analysis education sessions
- Development of a behavior support plan specific to your child's needs
- Direct guidance and feedback regarding your child's behaviors
- A RUBI Autism Network Training Parent Handbook

Group sessions will be facilitated by Erin Booker Lozott, M.S., CCC-SLP, Director of Clinical Services, and Kimberly Watterson-Rivieccio, Ed.D., Mental Health Counselor.
