The Els for Autism Adult Day Program is for adults with autism and related disabilities who have completed high school. We offer activities focusing on independent living skills, group recreation, art, and safety/social skills. The program will be held on campus or virtually - depending on current COVID-19 requirements.

Participants must have developed the ability to safely and actively participate in a 3:1 ratio setting. Participants must be completely independent in the restroom and able to adhere to PPE safety protocols, including social distancing, hand washing, and wearing a mask. Individuals who require additional ratio support will need to adhere to the Els for Autism companion policy to qualify.

Spots cannot be held unless payment has been made. Please be aware that all paperwork, online and otherwise, must be completed and received prior to attending any programs.

Program fees are non-refundable.

Activities will include:
- Vocational training
- Independent living skills practice
- Money management
- Instructional art classes
- Book club
- Social and emotional skill activities
- Recreation, fitness, and sports activities
- Health and wellness
- Virtual field trips

JULY TO OCTOBER, 2020

The Els for Autism Adult Day Program is for adults with autism and related disabilities who have completed high school. We offer activities focusing on independent living skills, group recreation, art, and safety/social skills. The program will be held on campus or virtually - depending on current COVID-19 requirements.

Participants must have developed the ability to safely and actively participate in a 3:1 ratio setting. Participants must be completely independent in the restroom and able to adhere to PPE safety protocols, including social distancing, hand washing, and wearing a mask. Individuals who require additional ratio support will need to adhere to the Els for Autism companion policy to qualify.

Spots cannot be held unless payment has been made. Please be aware that all paperwork, online and otherwise, must be completed and received prior to attending any programs.

Program fees are non-refundable.